

Florida Botanical Gardens'

Bugs!

Ladybugs feed on other bugs that hurt our plants--they are a natural bug killer!

Dragonflies catch hundreds of mosquitos every day. Usually over water.

The lubber grasshopper is very colorful, and big!

The Eastern Tiger Swallowtail is one of our largest butterflies.

Bumblebees are very gentle and rarely sting, but will defend themselves if bothered.

Zebra Longwing caterpillars feed on passion vine leaves. This butterfly has just emerged from its cocoon. It is feeding on Fire bush.
