

Prickly Pear Cactus

(Opuntia humifusa) is a native succulent that provides juicy stems and sweet red fruit which may be eaten by the threatened

Gopher Tortoise

(Gopherus polyphemus).

Even without teeth, the gopher tortoise is able to bite chunks of food with his hard, sharp mouth plate called a “tomia.”

Fancy a Bite?