The Zebra Swallowtail butterfly (Eurytides marcellus) lays its eggs on the Pawpaw (Asimina spp). Once the eggs hatch, the young caterpillars feed on its leaves.

Dinner Guest

The fruit of the pawpaw is an important food for many other wildlife species and is a favorite of the Gopher Tortoise.